

Daria Lysenko

Graduate of Architecture & Landscape Architect

Daria has extensive experience in analysing the rights and restrictions of architectural projects. She has developed a deep understanding of how to navigate the complex regulations and requirements that govern the industry. Daria has worked on projects in a variety of sectors, including commercial, industrial, and small residential. She has refined her skills in each of these areas and is comfortable adapting to the unique needs of various types of projects.

Daria has a particular interest in landscape design and master planning, and in understanding how spaces interact with each other to create a sense of community. She understands the importance of considering the broader context in which a project is situated and strives to create designs that are both functional and aesthetically pleasing. Daria is comfortable working with a wide range of tools and technologies and is always eager to learn new skills that will help improve her workflow and adapt to the needs of any project.
